CONTENTS

FOREWORD

We're here—peeping out from our Lotus frame—

Some just so—some in Sunday dress—

Trying in memory to remain the same.

We've played and  worked together—this we want to stress.

So keep this always in heart and mind—

And now we present the Lotus of nineteen forty-nine.

ANN FOUNTAIN

DEDICATION

It is a rare privilege for any senior class to be able to dedicate an annual to a person who is wife of their President and, at the same time, North Carolina's Mother of the Year. We are fortunate that North Carolina made permanent claim to her when she became a member of the faculty of Peace College in 1919 and the wife of Mr. William C. Pressly in 1921. We all recognize her leadership in civic activities, but it is for the quiet dignity which she exhibits in our presence and the unobtrusive confidence she always places in us as students that we choose Mrs. Pressly as our Mother of the Year. ★

TRIBUTE

MISS MARY KIRKPATRICK

As an expression of our very sincere appreciation, we pay tribute to Miss Mary Kirkpatrick. We are constantly aware of the fact that without her interest and hard work, the Lotus would, with difficulty, have been a successful senior project through the years. Our admiration for her thorough accuracy, faithfulness, and devotion, not only to the cause of the Lotus, but to the cause of all that is Peace, is boundless. She serves as an admirable example of constancy to a worthy task.

"And rank for her meant duty, various,
Yet equal in its worth, done worthily."

MISS MAY McLELLAND, Dean

 Another graduating class desires to acknowledge appreciation to our President and our Dean for their active interest. We feel that any contribution we successfully make in the world beyond the gates of Peace can best bespeak our gratitude to them.

BOARDING STUDENT COUNCIL

The purpose of the Student Government at Peace is to maintain order and to promote the interests of the student body. The nine members of the council are elected by popular vote. Each council member takes a pledge of honor to uphold the ideals of Peace and to set an example of good citizenship.

The duties of the council include writing the student handbook. The council also sponsors several social functions, important among them an annual formal dance.

MARY ELIZABETH WALKER
President

Carson, Wright, Marsh, Thomas.

DAY STUDENT COUNCIL

The Day Student Council endeavors to create a feeling of understanding, friendship, and loyalty among the day students. It is the hope of the council that the day students will always take a prominent part in school life at Peace College.

JESSIE CARSON
President

PEACE STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The religious activities on campus are embodied in Peace Student Christian Association. The Association, of which each girl in school is a member, is directed by a cabinet of four officers and eight chairmen of causes with Miss Lucy Steele as faculty adviser.

The first fall vespers is a dedication candlelight program with an old Peace girl as speaker.

All through the year the P. S. C. A. sponsors morning watch, weekly hall prayers, special Sunday night hymn sings, giving food baskets to the servants, the regular Sunday night vespers with special programs at Thanksgiving, a Christmas pageant, and in the spring, a week of sharing. Once a month there is a guest speaker.

Our year closes on the last Sunday night with a rededication candlelight service when a Peace alumna is again the speaker.

From our pledge, we chose the theme for the year, "Ever growing in spirit that I may radiantly reveal Christ in all my relationships."

THE CLASS OF '49 TO ITS COLLEGE — IN AFTER YEARS

I was just a rosebud—when first I came.

My petals I kept so closely wound
For I was afraid—not knowing you.

But through the days your hand reached out
And caused my petals slowly to unfold;

You started at the roots and applied the fertile soil.
You told me many things—things I had not known before;

And with your encouragement and care, your hope for me—a perfect rose,

As if freshened by morning dew—

My petals became a velvet red.

And now—even though these many years have passed—

I still remain the spotless rose,
Constant and enduring because you made me so.

CLASS HISTORY 1948-49

Coming to Peace was a revelation to me, or rather a series of revelations, the first and most impressive being a blur of license plates bearing tags from the hometowns of girls with whom I would be spending much time in the near future. A few of these I was not familiar with; others I easily recognized—Asheville, Norlina, Greensboro, Winston-Salem, Lumberton, Durham, Wilmington, and Columbia. Many more cities were represented; my memory is poor.

The pangs of homesickness during those first weeks were evident everywhere, but the tension which held us from night 'til morning was lessened by a maze of letters post-marked from every corner of North Carolina. Of course, those held most closely to our shining eyes and silent lips, everyone knew, were from home!

I soon became intimate with the small white slip of paper which meant a call from someone I loved at home, or perhaps from a friend at one of the schools so near to Peace—and yet so far away. To pick up the telephone and speak to those at Duke, perhaps, or Carolina, Wake Forest, Davidson, N. C. State, or E. C. T. C.—this seemed astounding to me. But the calls came, from all over the state, to Peace, so centrally located.

Above the routine of classes and lowly daily tasks could be heard the sudden bubbling of happy voices, high pitched and of varying accents. I was soon able to detect a girl's presence by the sound of her voice; for example, who could miss Dot Guy's slow drawl, or the excited rhythm of the Cubans?

Society parties, invitations, and "rat" day all led to one of the year's outstanding events—the Society Banquet. As evidence of the anticipation of this occasion, I observed boxes on which were printed the names of North Carolina's leading fashion shops: Ivey's or Montaldo's in Charlotte, Brownhill's or Meyer's in Greensboro, and Ellis Stone's in Durham.

Football games offered an outlet for the grind of studying constantly, and the enthusiasm and loyalty of spectators from Peace were unerring, as the groups returned tired and hungry, exuberant over winning, or downcast at the loss of their favorite teams. I saw pennants, pins, and programs collected on mirrors and in scrapbooks Saturday after Saturday.

During the year we were asked to donate a contribution to the Community Chest, and I gladly gave after realizing that the proceeds aided children not only in Raleigh, but in my community and many others as well, and that the little I gave from my heart as well as my purse might benefit a needy person in another section of our state.

"The Messiah" and the P.S.C.A. Pageant intensified my desire to hear the Christmas performances in my home town, for the calendar showed me that the holidays were slowly approaching. Elatedly we sang the "Vacation Song" for the last time that year—

Reluctantly I parted with my family but felt an eagerness to see Peace friends once more as I returned to my old routine. "Campus Missions" and the "Week of Sharing" were sources of inspiration in the weeks that followed. And the Society plays furnished us delightful entertainment.

Upon our return from spring holidays we began preparations for May Day. Long hours of practice produced an entertaining, colorful and impressive program, full of ingenuity and remarkable talent. I had not known that the affair would attract such a gathering, but parents and friends of many came to witness the occurrence.

There came the time we all were dreading—Commencement and parting of friends, with many of whom we would not come in contact again. We spoke our farewells and aided heavily-laden fathers and brothers in carrying to the cars the accumulations of a year away at school. . . .

The sultry heat of summer blended with the warm glow of autumn, and I found myself again among the immigrants to Peace, some from little towns and some from big ones all over the Carolinas and even from Cuba and New England.

My responsibilities as a senior were far greater than those of my junior year. I soon realized that the honor was recognized by undergraduates. This year I could not afford to experience the nostalgia that came over me as a junior, when a small white cross in the mail box reminded me of my church activities at home. This year it was I who must set the example which last year the seniors had set for me.

The foundations, the fundamentals, the traditions of Peace remain unchanged from year to year, as I soon understood, in spite of the flood of new faces. I relaxed unconsciously into a ritual, and the trials and tribulations of new girls, which I had previously experienced in my orientation to Peace, were understandingly witnessed by all seniors.

Joyfully I welcomed the Thanksgiving holidays which were preceded by one of the most heart-warming Peace traditions, the presentation of the Thanksgiving boxes to the heart of efficiency at Peace, the conscientious servants.

Time beat steadily onward and brought in its wake, Loyalty Week, Peanut Week, Campus Missions, and the Week of Sharing.

With great anticipation we greeted the approach of the Junior-Senior Dance, as did our anxious and "happy-to-please" mothers, who with capable hands and willing hearts patiently prepared the grand attire for this event. At our dance most of the outlying colleges were represented in great number, the boys traveling, some of them—bless their hearts—from distances plainly proving the importance of a ball in the very heart of surrounding colleges.

The last day—our day—finally was a reality, and the two years I had passed with dear companions and encouraging teachers were at a close. My reflections will be happy and numerous, for a part of my heart will also remain at Peace.

PROPHECY

Well, here the Seniors are at a party—as usual, playing “parlor games.” There is much laughter, because it’s quite a joke that all the girls passed that Senior English.

Most of the games are fun, but the future-telling-dart-board is just the thing for the Seniors. This dart-board isn’t round, square, rectangular or triangular. In other words, it’s different. Its shape is that of a map of North Carolina; and in the heart of the map—you guessed it, there’s a heart. The object of the game is to throw the dart at different towns. Why all this? Listen and you shall see.

The first stooge very reluctantly grasps a dart and wildly throws it at the map. Of course, the first to try anything is Dot Guy. The dart slowly hits Pee Dee. All at once there are two doors in the heart of North Carolina that open and say: “Miss Dot Guy won a nation-wide contest today. Now she is Miss Fast-Talker of 1988. Frankly, folks, she talks as fast as a machine! In fact, scientist Barbara Ward is working on a new type of drug to cure all people who have tried to keep up with Miss Guy’s conversations.”

The Seniors then are amazed at this mystery board and many push their way through the crowd to get a trial. Of course, Peggy Anderson gets there next. She eagerly throws a dart, aims it at the heart itself, but misses and hits Chalklevel. The little doors open and tell her future: “Miss Walter Winchell Anderson predicted today that the ‘I’m for you party’ will defeat the ‘You’re for me?’ Party in the 1961 election. Candidates are Ann Moore and Sarah Anne Dennis against Lucy Thorp and Viola Yates.”

Peggy looks under her elbow and is startled to see Lois Kilpatrick standing there. Lois wants to try this thing of mystery. Aiming near Greenville, she throws her dart into Wulla Watta. The doors of the heart open and say: “Miss Lois Kilpatrick wedded Mr. You-Know-Ilum, author of ‘I’m a Big Girl Now.’” Showered with Eleanor Aiken no-taste rice, the couple rushed to Mexico.

The bride wore a Joan Johnson creation with a Martha Jarrett panama hat. Shoes and accessories came from Mary Nelson and Ann Strickler stores.

The next smiling girl is the anxious Minnie Lee Daughtry. Her future heart simply says this: “The new Dean of Women of the 1968 session at Wake Forest was the former Miss Minnie Lee Daughtry. She and her husband Mr. John, Dean of Men, are rapidly increasing the enrollment of future Wake Foresters. Barbara Adams and Jeannine Copeland are keeping those adding machines busy too.”

Floating on clouds, Minnie Lee gives the dart to Martha Ann Olsen, whose future says: “All co-eds who wish to see the pictures in the book English Is Killing Me are to go to the book store owner Miss Martha Ann Olsen. These pictures were done by Marie Cameron, who has illustrated so many masterpieces of the morons.”

Mary Lib Walker tries her luck. Her future is told by a picture of the month. Under the picture are these words: “Seated is Miss Walker, Superintendent of the Mental Hospital for Morons. She has had years of experience! On her left are Warden Dot Gregory and Secretary Louise Venters.”

Jean Trevathan steps up, throws her dart, and laughs at her future! “Visit the Trevathan 21 Club tonight. Thrill at the sight of Mary Lou Page’s toe dancing; swoon at the torch singer, Jacqueline Becker; dance to the music of

'White Keys Hyatt'; and feel refreshed with the new van der Lugt Florida orange julep."

Jane Faison giggles, throws the dart, and giggles still more when she sees—"Jane Faison and Jean Kistler's 1958 love magazine contains many articles such as "After Mush Brush Your Teeth," by Jean Lyon; "We Need More Monks," by Catherine Robinson; "Oh, B-i-l-l!" by Margaret Hobbs; "Tires, Gas, and Good Year Hugh," by Ann Carson; and "He's Not in Hollywood, but His Name's Still Charlie" by Ann Fountain.

Mary Tremaine steps up to test her luck. Her future is foretold by a news flash: "1980-Today millions gathered around television sets to see the improved new Ipana smile, illustrated by Mary Tremaine. Betty Sue Wright sings about the "Ipana Toothless Smile" while Mary smiles; and announcer Arlene Turlington tells of the new improved dental paste. Surely, folks, in the laboratory of Foy Gunter, this tooth-paste has been proved to be even better than Dentyne Chewing Gum."

Ruth Latham then tries this wonder-board. Her dart hits Chapel Hill. Of course, that's enough future, but those little doors still have more of the good stuff. "Showing at the Carolina Theater is A Blonde, A Brunette, and A Red Head, starring Ruth Latham, Sarah Jean Hartsock, and Jean Newkirk. The short is the 1952 Sensation Jessie Carson and her magic 'gee-tar.' The newsreel shows the latest pictures of the Al Jolson and Joyce Keasey tours."

Marvel Jackson has been dying to see her future. She throws her dart, hits Sylvaola, and the doors open. Her future is told by the Who's Who in America: "Miss Marvel Jackson is the Speed-Kill of the 50's. She has broken the record of 120 words a minute—on the typewriter, that is. Competing with her, at 119 words a minute, is Rose Cameron."

Jonni Browning gets a trial next. This is her future: "That Million Dollar Sneeze is the polite sneeze of Miss Jonni Browning. Secretary Miriam Johnson keeps a record of all sneezes. Miss Jean Gardner, tax collector, says that Miss Browning sneezes every 15 minutes and Jean has formed an Anti-Sneeze Club with Dot Johnson as president. After all, Treasurer Dot Shaw is running out of million dollar bills."

Louise Griggs smiles and insists that she try her luck. Her future is The Griggs' Daily News Society Page. Such items as these appear:

Today Miss Leonora Townsend was wed to Mr. Smoo Citygone. Mrs. Norma Wetmore Sealess was bridesmaid.

Mrs. Aileen Branch Tree was blessed with a seven-pound baby boy. Its name is Twig.

Mrs. Della Mial Per-Hour and Mrs. Portia Butler Maid gave a shower for Mrs. Betsy Marsh Swamp's new baby Bog.

Betty Ward Maness steps up and throws a dart. The doors open to the accompaniment of the announcement of a cooking hour. "Have you read the new improved 1962 cook book, edited by Betty Ward Maness and Betty Grey Whitten? It contains hints on beans in cans, instant coffee, and boiled eggs. After years of experience, these two housewives guarantee that husbands will not have 'bay windows'."

After patiently waiting my turn, I put down my paper and pen and pick up a dart. My dart doesn't do as the darts of the others, but it goes right into the doors themselves. Surely, I have ruined our future board. The Seniors are angered at my throw, and we start to leave. Suddenly we hear beautiful music. Why it's our Alma Mater! And it's coming from our dart board. We look at the board, and our Alma Mater plays on. Never have we heard our song so beautiful. Suddenly the doors to the future open and say "Hail, all hail to Peace."

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Regardless of the opinion of the faculty, to whom we leave all the things they could not teach us in the hope that the Juniors will be more studious, we the Class of '49 have survived the last two years here in the heart of dear Carolina. We are packing to leave now, and since we cannot pack everything we want to take, we'll just have to leave something behind. Now let's see. . . . Oh, yes, we'll leave a whole new student body who are perfectly satisfied with their original schedules—for Dr. Pressly. Won't he be pleased?? This competent secretary with a legible handwriting will do fine for Miss McLelland. Oh, we'll just have to leave behind a little extra strength for the Juniors to pull through Senior English! How about this one? Yes, we'll have to leave this one too—the wonderful possibility of the Preps wearing strapless dresses for graduation! (Irene just came in looking for another stray girl). Well, that just about finishes our packing except for. . . . Now, how could we have forgotten and have packed this in our luggage. . . ? To the maids we leave a sixth sense for finding all girls who "are out of place."

Oh, no, we haven't forgotten to leave these out, either. How could we . . . ?

Barbara Adams leaves the "little drug" to the starving day student Seniors—Leo Jarret, Dena Brown, and Ann Sykes—of next year.

All the headaches Eleanor Aiken has had with the Pi's are left to any girl who has nothing to do but worry.

Peggy Anderson leaves her daily exercise to Anne Byrd MacArthur.

Jackie Becker leaves her boisterousness to Carolyn Allen.

To the "Cubans" Aileen Branch leaves her popularity.

Portia Butler asks that her traditional neatness be carried on by Jean Leonard.

To Joyce Ann Evans and Florrie Beitman, Marie Cameron wills her "parties." (We think it will take two girls to fill Marie's place.)

Rose Cameron gladly leaves her monitor classes to "Pete" Watts.

Ann Carson's love of Sanford is left to Ann Hunt. (Not that we think Ann needs it.)

To Julia Stout, Jessie Carson wills her position as class jester. (The show must go on!)

Nan Chaplin graciously leaves her ability to spell to Sara Frances Lassiter.

Jeannine Copeland transfers her dependability into the capable hands of Mollie Anne Boney

Jane Faison leaves her keys to the "cabin" to Edna Whitehead, since Edna is a day student this year and can use them.

Ann Fountain's poetic genius is to be carried on by Peggy Green.

Jean Gardner leaves her oil portraits to Nell Spies.

Dot Gregory has graciously consented to leave her black hair to Luisa Castells!

"Morning Watch" is left to N. A. MacMillan by Louise Griggs.

Foy Gunter reluctantly leaves her knowledge of Bible to Jeaneane Crawford.

From Dot Guy to Anne Butler—her famous southern accent.

Sarah Jean Hartsock wills her clothes to the entire Junior Class. (S. J. will still have plenty, girls!)

Margaret Hobbs' ability to get her "one and only" is left to any girl who thinks she is having more than her share of trouble.

Marvel Jackson leaves 413 to a popular senior of next year. (We hope it brings her the good luck that it brought Marvel!)

To the entire Junior Class Marcie Jarrett leaves her friendliness with the council members.

Dorothy Johnson leaves room 429 to Betty Cannady with an extra broom to keep it clean.

To Georgie Duffy, Joan Johnson wills her love of breakfast.

Betty Ward Maness leaves Peace with a brilliant future which any girl would like to have. (You should see her "future," girls!)

Betsy Marsh wills her experiences as an "Army brat" to Barbara MacLain in order to add material to Barbara's future book of memories.

Della Mial leaves her never-changing dreamy expression to Joan Ferrell. (We hope Joan can concentrate better on crooner Frankie.)

Anne Moore wraps up her gift of gab and presents it to Leona Bostick.

Mary Mac Nelson quietly leaves Peace and returns to "the hills of Tennessee."

To Mary Rose Smith and Anne Barnes, Martha Anne Olsen leaves her daily parking space on the campus.

Jean Newkirk, as she leaves with Jean Gardner, wills her bright red hair to any girl who has a yearning for it.

Mary Lou Page, as she goes back to Rhode Island, leaves the South to Gloria Hasselman.

To Doris Yelverton, Catherine Robinson leaves her ability to get along with her "suitor."

Dorothy Shaw passes on her frankness to Emily Rhodes.

Anne Strickler, out of kindness, leaves Chapel Hill to some girl who would like to change "Hills."

Lucy Thorp's hours spent in the library studying are left to Frances Cherry.

Leonora Townsend wills her long "working hours" to Sally Townsend.

Mary Tremaine wills her knowledge of Spanish to Ethel Harrison. (That's a lot of "knowledge," Ethel!)

To Annie Sue Barefoot, Jean Trevathan leaves her love of dancing.

Arlene Turlington leaves her subtle mischievousness to Pat Collins. (—wonder what Arlene will do without it.)

Mary van de Lugt takes pride in leaving her knitting ability to Nancy Love Coble and Bunnie Ricks.

To Charlie Richardson, Joyce Veasey wills Al Jolson. (Take care of his white gloves, Charlie.)

Louise Venters' quiet charm is passed on to Katherine Blue.

Mary Lib Walker leaves her warmth of personality to Merleon Godwin.

Barbara Ward leaves all her excess weight to Mary Bettis Bouknight.

"Boo" Wetmore leaves her everlasting energy to Barbara Matthews and Mildred Powell.

As Betty Grey Whitten departs for Richmond, she takes a souvenir from the heart of N. C. with her—namely, Wake Forest.

Bettye Sue Wright wills her voice to Lois Waldrop. (The Glee Club will need you, Lois!)

Vee Yates leaves Peace to concentrate more on Carolina!

As we tumble downstairs with our still heavily packed suitcases to start for our many different destinations, we sign out for the last time:

BUSINESS STAFF

Soon after school opened the Business Staff of THE LOTUS undertook the all-important task of financing the annual.

Sunny days, rainy days—well, almost any kind—found us starting for town. Many of us literally saw Raleigh for the first time. However, without the help of Miss Mary Kirkpatrick, our adviser, the job could never have been completed. It was all hard work, but fun—fun to know that we've helped give you this, the 1949 Lotus.

ELSIE ROBERTSON ART CLUB

In 1943 the Elsie Robertson Art Club was formed at Peace College. Since that time it has thrived under the excellent guidance of its sponsor, Miss Mabel Pugh.

The interest of the Art Club centers around the programs at the monthly meetings which strive to create a greater appreciation of art. The members attend lectures, exhibits, and social gatherings, which are held in the homes of the local members. This club is responsible for a scholarship which is presented to a worthy Peace student. Each member of the club is given credit for any work done to further her knowledge of art.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club is composed of Peace girls who are interested in current events and current problems. Under the guidance of Mrs. Robert F. Stoops, the club meets twice a month for lectures, discussions, and debates.

The Peace International Relations Club is affiliated with the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and seeks to do its part to encourage the whole campus in careful reading, thinking, and analysis of the critical problems of our time. In order to have an actual part in helping to create a better world, the club for the past three years has sent two boxes of food and clothing each month to our two "adopted" French Children.

PHI THETA KAPPA

Phi Theta Kappa Fraternity, National Junior College Honorary Scholastic Society, was founded at Stephens College in Fulton, Missouri. Gamma Phi of Peace College is one of the one hundred fourteen chapters of the organization. Miss Winifred Kuhns is the sponsor of the society.

The high objectives of Phi Theta Kappa are indicated in the official song:

Give us Wisdom, God, we pray,
That our lives from day to day
May reflect on all around us
That great gift which now has bound us.

May our aspiration ever
Upward reach; grant we may never
By unworthy thought or deed
Lower our standard. Be our Guide!

By the Purity of our living,
May we help each other, giving
Strength to those who need our aid;
In this balance we'll be weighed.

Anne Butler; Jean Kistler, President

SIGMA PI ALPHA

The Theta Chapter of the Sigma Pi Alpha was established at Peace in 1939. The Sigma Pi Alpha, a national honorary language fraternity, seeks to promote interest in lands and languages other than that of our own country.

Eligibility is based on general scholastic work as well as upon special ability in languages. The sponsors are Miss Rachel McElroy and Miss Mary Meares Galt.

Barbara Adams; Eleanor Aiken, President; Sarah Anne Dennis

ALPHA PI EPSILON

Alpha Pi Epsilon, the National Honorary Secretarial Society, strives to promote the skill and standards of commercial students. The Tau Chapter, maintained at Peace, was established in 1942.

Students invited to join the society are selected on the basis of scholarship, character, and ability. The club is sponsored by Miss Thetis Shepherd.

PI THETA MU

This year, as in the forty-two previous years, the green and white colors of the Pi Theta Mu society stood for "the highest Peace can strive for."

As we think back over the year, we remember our Halloween rush party with its witches, spooks, and fortune tellers; the informal initiation with the usual hilarious pranks and comical dress; and the impressive ceremony of the formal initiation held in the girls' living room.

Later in the year the society banquet and the dance, given by the three societies, brought to a close a memorable year in the history of the Pi Theta Mu Society.

RHO DELTA CHI

What does Rho mean? It means a society which stands for honor and loyalty as well as for school spirit.

The Rho "Shmoo Rush Party" and the formal initiation were only the beginnings of the fun that was in store for the new Rhos.

The parties, the society banquet, the competition in sports, the society dance, and the one-act play made all the Rhos feel proud of their society. When they see their society colors (red 'n' white), they want to "stand up and cheer for Rho Delta Chi."

Time marches on and so do the Sigs! During the year, the Sigma Phi Kappa Society has had many happy hours.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

DOROTHY GUY
President

The Peace girls need relaxation between academic pursuits, and they find it in their athletic activities. The Athletic Council, together with its sponsor, Miss Joyce Fowler, work out a well-rounded program for physical development, sportsmanlike competition, and interesting diversion throughout the year.

Tennis Tournaments were features of the fall and spring. During the winter basketball season, there was, as well, a keen spirit of rivalry.

Every student at Peace is encouraged to take part in sports and to inspire higher ideals in sportsmanship.

THE ANGLE ON SPORTS

AT PLAY

OUTSTANDING

AILEEN BRANCH

A cheerful, optimistic person, Aileen has done wonders in keeping the school's morale up to par. Her nature makes it quite impossible for anyone to peak and pine. She has been extroverted and whole-hearted in her participation and co-operation in extracurricular activities—whether these include the Privileged Honor Roll, the P.S.C.A. Cabinet, or the Student Council. Such people are indispensable.

MARIE CAMERON

Her skill at organization and her ready participation in any activities to which she is assigned have made Marie one of the school's best-liked girls. A calm person, she is friendly and sympathetic to everyone. In her positions on the Student Council and the P.S.C.A. Cabinet, Marie's tactful charm has won many friends and has been a strong factor in keeping coöperative endeavors pleasant.

SENIORS

JANE FAISON

Jane is a peach of a person. She is sincere and outspoken—definitely not a hypocrite. She has a dry wit which sometimes strikes—constantly simmers. This facet of her personality is most refreshing. In her connection with the P.S.C.A. Cabinet and in her co-editorship of the Lotus, she has demonstrated both energetic managing ability and reliability. . . . Jane's the stuff that life is made of!

MARGARET HOBBS

Peg's popularity and sincerity are the most effective passport she can have. The recognition and approval of these traits were evident in her election to the Presidency of the Senior Class, a duty, as well as an honor, which calls for dignity and perseverance. She has been a member of the Student Council, too. Peg is a fine person—and a real one.

OUTSTANDING

MARVEL JACKSON

Two of Marvel's outstanding characteristics are her leadership and popularity. The one has made her a member of the Student Council; the other President of the Sigs. However, it is not necessary to qualify or pigeon-hole Marvel. A blithe spirit herself, she has helped to promote an atmosphere of friendliness and pleasant informality—an absolute requisite to any sort of balanced life.

LEONORA TOWNSEND

Leonora has been greatly liked and admired for her friendliness and integrity. Persistent in any stand she takes and ready to help when needed, she has impressed her associates with her maturity of character. Perhaps Leonora has excelled most as P.S.C.A. President. This is a recognition easily understood, because of the fine way in which she puts Christian ideals into practice.

SENIORS

MARY VAN DER LUGT

Mary radiates a quality of gentleness and composure which is decidedly captivating. There is nothing sham about her. She will never decline to meet a responsibility. These traits have prompted her to rise to the school's stratosphere; namely, the Student Council and the Privileged Honor Roll. She is the sort of person who by her stability holds the earth on its axis.

BETTYE SUE WRIGHT

Bettye Sue has proved that the union of talent and intelligence is not incompatible. A well-rounded girl, she has entered into many activities with an impartial spirit of interest. The Cabinet has been an outlet for her socially selfless personality. Her election to Phi Theta Kappa was but the tangible result of that intangible endowment—the intelligence. . . . "By their fruits ye shall know them."

READ
before you decide on your profession

DURING the next six years, half a million teaching positions will be available in the United States. Thousands of men and women are needed to replace inadequately prepared teachers now in the schools, to fill the vacancies caused by normal turnover, and to meet the needs of the five million additional children born during wartime. There is a need for elementary and high school teachers, college instructors, principals, superintendents, and educational specialists of every kind.

Now you know the law of supply and demand. When your kind of training and ability are needed, offers for it are made more and more attractive.

That is what's happening in the teaching profession. Many communities are taking steps to improve their local school conditions—some are granting salary increases—North Carolina has established a definite minimum salary schedule for teachers.

The ability to teach is a special gift, a valued talent, and no profession provides greater personal satisfaction than teaching. If you are a "born teacher"—make your decision now to join this honored profession. For "Our Teachers Mold Our Nation's Future," and America's future has need of you.

DROP US A LINE ... NOW AND THEN

Those of you who graduate this year, and those of you who will not return to Peace next year will be numbered among the 4,000 Peace Alumnae scattered all over the world. We hope you will cherish your memories of Peace College through the years. Whether you realize it or not, you have contributed in your own way toward the history of Peace and we are proud of that contribution.

The college was vitally interested in you as a student and the college shall follow with love and deep satisfaction your post-college career—in the home, in the school, in the church, and in the business and professional world.

As a member of the Peace College Alumnae Association you will receive quarterly The Bulletin which will bring you current news of the college and its Alumnae. News of your marriage, your change of address, your activities in the church and in the community—all of these are of interest to us and to your classmates. Send us just a card. That will suffice.

You are as vital to Peace College as an Alumna as you were as a student. We shall be proud of your every success.

Drop us a line . . . now and then. We will be happy to hear from you. You can send your card to
